

About AlphaScan

Alpha Scan Computers Ltd, formerly trading as ADA Computer Systems, was established in 1991 to address the need for a premier IT solutions provider in the south of England. With a customer base ranging from small businesses to large multinational corporate companies, the key to our success has been our ability to offer our clients flexibility with an unrivalled quality of service, whilst still remaining competitive within the marketplace.

Providing a professional, flexible and personable level of service at extremely competitive which, we feel, are both innovative and unrivalled in our industry has led to Alpha Scan increasing our geographical reach in to London and surrounding counties.

Our ability to be able to react on very quick response times has provided many tangible business benefits that greatly outstrip those offered by similar IT companies offering IT products, supplies, maintenance and support.
